VIDEO/STORY:

- Watch the YouTube video - Water into Wine | Superbook Videos HD

Ask the children if they have ever been to a wedding. Ask them what happens. Ask them about the party after the service. What happens there?

Say that today's story is about a wedding and everyone is going to use their face to show how the people in the story felt at different times. After each section/sentence in the following story, ask the children to express the emotion of the character with their face – i.e. happy, sad, worried, confused, etc.

Once upon a time there were two people who loved each other very much and decided to get married.

They invited all of their friends to come. These people included Jesus and his mum.

The party went on for a long time and everyone had lots to eat and drink. It was delicious!

But then... a disaster! The wine ran out and there was nothing for people to drink.

Jesus' mum knew that Jesus would know what to do. She told the servants to do whatever he told them.

In those days everyone had big stone jars of water in their houses so that they could make sure they were properly clean before they had dinner. They were huge jars - so big that one of you could easily fit inside. In this particular house there were 6 of these big pots. Jesus told the servants to fill them with water.

When the jars were filled, Jesus told the servants to fill up a cup from one of the jars and take it to the head servant who was in charge of all the food and drink at the party.

The servant didn't realise but the water had changed into wine, and when the head servant tasted it he said it was the best tasting wine they'd had all night!

Everyone was able to have another drink and stay at the party.

- What's the Point? To tell the story and think about how the people felt as it was happening.

ACTIVITY:

➤ YOU WILL NEED:

Dressing up clothes, including things that could be used to wear for a wedding or some posh or smart clothes.

Also, you may like to get some plastic cups one with water and another with blackcurrant juice or some snacks as well.

Have dressing up clothes available for children to explore and put on. You might like to provide a mirror so that they can see themselves in their finery.

Then when they are all dressed up pour some blackcurrant juice into the water so they can see it change colour.

- What's the Point? To tell the story of Jesus' first miracle and how he turned water into wine.

PRAYER:

Dear God,
Thank you that you are interested in the things I am worried about,
Please help me to remember that you care about me and the people I care about too.
Thank you for doing miracles!
Please help me to believe you still do them today.

Amen
